

WOVEN DREAMS

HEADWEAR BY PATRICE

HEADWEAR DESIGN

I, Patrice Michelle Quarles, was born in Milwaukee Wisconsin, February 22nd, 1959. Being both Native American and African American, hair has always been something I had to spend extra time to take care of due to the fragility of my hair type.

I have worn braids and twists all my life while sleeping on satin pillowcases for over 40 years as a way to protect my hair.

I came up with the idea to create headbands that are not only fashionable, but healthy for your hair as well.

Woven Dreams headbands are made out of satin that protect from breakage and come in many colors that blend right in to your own hair color. They provide you comfort, protection and style! Wear them in the gym, bed or out on the town. These headbands will definitely help you feel like your best self!
